But This I Know

by Gilbert Schroerlucke and Kaye McSpadden

I do not know what morning brings me,
or if the sun will even shine.
I do not know the road before me,
if joy or suff'ring will be mine.

CHORUS:
But this I know—that God is with me.
That's all I need.
That's all I need today.
But this I know—God won't forsake me.
That's all I need.
That's all I need.

I've often asked for more assurance about the days that lie ahead,
But then I see what's really needed is simply faith in God instead.

CHORUS

Lord give me grace to be accepting as future days unfold for me.
Please help me take both good and evil
in patient hope and trust in Thee.
