CERALVO SUNDAY SCHOOL QUILT 1935

This quilt was a fundraising project of the Ceralvo (Kentucky) Church Sunday School in 1935. "Signature Quilts" were common fundraising projects of churches and community groups in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. Typically, individuals paid $.10 to have their name added to the quilt.

My mother, Bettye Jean Everley (Schroerlucke) was 5 years old when this quilt was made. The names of Bettye, her siblings, parents, and many relatives are included. As I recall, when she told me about this quilt, she said the price of having one's name included was $.10. I don't know, however, how her family ended up with the quilt.

The quilt pattern is called "Rose Dream." It appears to be made of cotton fabric pieces (orange/red and white) with a light inner lining. I think it was made with both hand-stitching and some machine-stitching. The names are hand-embroidered.

Following are basic stats about the quilt:

Size of quilt: 83" long x 73" wide

Total number of squares with names: 80

Total number of individual names (Mr & Mrs entries counted as two individuals): 299

Most common family name-- EVERLEY: 31 (+ 2 Everly's)

In the following chart, all names are listed alphabetically and the location is recorded according to the block they are in (row/column). With the title at the top, rows are numbered from top to bottom (1-14) and columns are lettered from left-right (A-L).

Mr & Mrs A.B. Everley: 8-G

Baun, Truman, Maureen, and Betty: 7-H
